If Venus were a boy...

Beyonce's got us thinking. So what if Venus were a boy and Mars were a girl?...

Venus

If I were a boy...

If I were a boy I'd achieve an authentic bed hair look by simply not styling my hair after getting out of bed, thus saving half an hour and half a tub of hair wax each morning.

If I were a boy, I'd tuck it away and zip up before leaving the urinal, not while walking through a crowded bar.

If I were a boy, I'd avoid the risk of having all my emails psychoanalysed by an office full of women by being consistent with my use of kisses. None of this two kisses one day, none the next.

If I were a boy I'd memorise the answers to the following questions: "Does my bum look big in this?" (No); "She's pretty, isn't she?" (She's not my type); "What are you thinking?" (How much I love you).

If I were a boy I'd blow my nose before leaving the house to avoid the urge to cough up tennis ball-sized greenies onto the pavement.

If I were a boy I'd be more popular than the chocolate Lynx ad man ("I don't know where he came from but they say he knows what the G-spot is.")

If I were a boy, I'd grow a beard and fool half the female population into assuming I was good looking.

If I were a boy I'd wear shorts all year round. Look no cellulite!

If I were a boy I'd set reminder alarms to stockpile chocolate, lock away valuables (the Wii) and organise my extreme sport weekends according to her menstrual cycle.

If I were a boy I'd change my Facebook password. You think she doesn't know it? If you were a girl you'd be in for a shock.

If I were a boy I'd have a night in, playing with my new best friend.

If I were a boy I would NOT proudly announce to all and sundry what I was doing last night.

Mars

If I were a girl...

If I were a girl I wouldn't bother listening to every word he says and filing it away to use in future arguments because I'd know that even he wasn't really listening to what he was saying.

If I were a girl I would never ask him how I looked in this outfit because I'd know his answer would be based entirely on him trying to say the right thing so he'd still get a shag tonight.

If I were a girl I'd put on a few pounds and have a slice of cake every afternoon come rain or shine. Then if my blouse felt a little tight I'd undo one button and give the lads at work a treat.

If I were a girl I'd text back immediately so that he didn't have to spend the rest of the afternoon checking that his phone was actually on.

If I were a girl I'd let him know right from the start that he's only going to get a snog on the first date, but that he can expect the following forthcoming attractions right on time on dates two, three and four.

If I were a girl I wouldn't believe any guy who said he just wanted to be friends - especially if they offered me a shoulder to cry on and said they thought of me more like a sister.

If I were a girl I'd have a baby just to prove it wasn't as bad as man flu.

If I were a girl I'd get him to explain the rules of cricket and football to me and I'd write it all down so I could refer to it rather than bother him in the middle of a very important game.

If I were a girl I'd have a selection of ready styled wigs for bad hair days so I could still get out the door in the morning in 10 minutes flat.

If I were a girl I still wouldn't have time for Carrie Bradshaw but I'd do naked saunas with Samantha in a heartbeat.

If I were a girl I'd need a boyfriend with very bad eyesight.
